

“With my books, I ask kids to face their fears using humor and knowledge. With my murals, I’m asking kids to face a new fear: the unknown! Can we work together to create something beautiful? (spoiler alert: We totally can!)”
-Bethany Barton

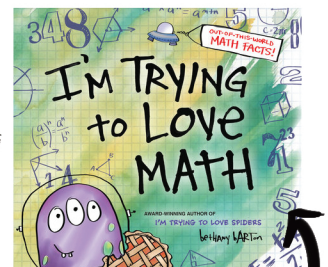

CREATE a MURAL WITH AWARD-WINNING AUTHOR & ILLUSTRATOR BETHANY BARTON

Let your students express their creativity and practice working together (all while beautifying your school!!) with award-winning author & illustrator Bethany Barton. Given the freedom to create “crazy shapes” side-by-side, students will each make their mark, with no outline or example to follow. Once the wall is filled, Bethany Barton will turn their shapes into whimsical creatures and objects, complete with an inspirational message. Students learn to improvise, adapt, and express themselves, all while contributing to something bigger than they imagined! Also, we have loads of fun!

Don't have a blank wall? That's okay! We can paint a giant board together! (Remember, we're learning how to adapt and improvise!)
